

Social and Personal

CARDS have been issued by Mr. and Mrs. James E. Mansfield, of Bluffton, Ga., announcing the marriage of their daughter, Helen Corinne, to Jackson Davis, of Farmville, the ceremony having taken place on Tuesday, May 9, at the home of the bride. The ceremony was performed by Dr. J. I. D. Miller, of Macon, Ga., in the presence of only the immediate families. Miss Ruby Mansfield was the maid of honor, and Professor W. A. Maddox, of the Virginia State Normal School, acted as the groom's best man.

The bride is well known in society circles of her native State, and is a post-graduate of Brenau College and also of Columbia University. Mr. Davis is widely related in Virginia, and is a graduate of William and Mary College and Columbia University. Mr. and Mrs. Davis left immediately after the ceremony for a Northern wedding trip, and will be at home in Burkeville, Va., after May 25.

At the Country Club.

There will be the usual gathering for tea this afternoon at the Country Club, followed by informal dancing and dinner parties. The clubhouse will be decorated with great jars of dogwood and honeysuckle blossoms, and the tea tables will also be arranged with pink and white flowers. There are no special hostesses at the club these days, and the receptions Saturday at the clubhouse are decidedly informal affairs.

Miss Jackson Engaged.

The engagement of Miss Ella C. Jackson, Richmond, to Donald S. Harrison, of Danville, was announced Wednesday at a beautiful luncheon given by Mrs. Howson W. Cole at her residence in Danville, where Miss Jackson has been spending the winter. The decorations were bride roses, lilies of the valley and emilax, and the place cards were small slippers with bows of tulle and orange blossoms.

The announcement was made by little Miss Lavelette Cole presenting Miss Jackson with a pair of white slippers. The wedding will take place in Danville.

HANDLING OF EXPLOSIVES

Railroad Club Hears Address on Modern Transportation Methods.
Safe handling and transportation of explosives and other dangerous commodities was the subject of an address delivered last night in the assembly hall of Murphy's Hotel before the Railroad Club of Richmond. The speaker was Colonel James L. Taylor, special agent for the safety of passengers of the American Railway Association.

Colonel Taylor was formerly general passenger agent of the Chesapeake and Danville Railroad, and then resided in this city. He now lives in New York. The club gave him a cordial reception.

Entire endorsement of the rules adopted by the Interstate Commerce Commission, and now being put generally into effect by State railroad commissions, regarding the handling of explosives, was given by Colonel Taylor. He explained how much of this material is handled in the South by ignorant negroes, and in all sections by foreigners who cannot read English, to show how futile was any effort to avoid accidents by printing the names of the article on the car package. However, under the rules now in force the goods are so marked that the most ignorant and illiterate man can be readily taught to distinguish the dangerous nature of the material, and handle it accordingly. As the markings are uniform all over the country, when once learned they can be always discerned.

TROUBLE MADE BY VICIOUS PEOPLE

Colored Baptists of Virginia Plead Earnestly for Better Conditions.

"Must Jesus Bear the Cross Alone?" was the hymn used to open one of the busiest sessions ever held in the history of the Negro Baptist State convention yesterday. Dr. R. H. Bowling presided, and the praise services were conducted by Revs. F. C. Patterson, of Hollis, L. A. Green, of Swansboro, and J. S. Minor, of Beulah.

"Home Life of the Negro," was the theme of the address delivered by President Bowling to the convention. "One of the things that we must teach our people in this world," he said, "is the importance of getting homes and paying for them, educating their children and bettering their own conditions as individuals, and this will mean racial progress. Races and nations are made up with individuals, hence we need strong men and women to make a strong race."

"Education must go a long way toward helping our people. I want that we shall do all in our power to wipe out our illiteracy, ignorance and crime.
Every State in the Union should do this. The men of both races who make the most trouble are the ignorant vicious class. While here let me speak against crime and criminals. They are produced by loafers. Loafers of any race are dangerous, and we are willing to join with the law-makers to reduce loafing."

Must Put Down Crime.
"As we go from here let us resolve to teach ourselves, teach our children, teach the children of our neighbors a

PAINT LICK LADY WRITES THANKS

For the Great Benefit That Cardui, the Woman's Tonic, Was to Her When Sick.

Paint Lick, Ky.—"I suffered so much from womanly trouble," writes Mrs.
Mary Freeman, of Paint Lick, Ky., "before I commenced to take Cardui.

"I was so weak from it that I was down on my back nearly all the time.

"I have taken three bottles of Cardui and it has done me more good than any medicine I ever took in my life.

"I can't possibly praise it too highly.
It has done so much for me, and I will do all I can to help you, for I think it is the only medicine on earth that will cure female troubles."

You need not be afraid to try Cardui, for in doing so you are making no new experiment in drug dosing or in tablets of concentrated mineral ingredients.

Cardui as a medicine, as a tonic for weak, tired, worn-out women, is time-tested, safe, reliable. It has helped others and should certainly help you.

Composed of gentle-acting, herb ingredients, its action is mild and natural, and it has no bad after-effects, as have many of the powerful drugs sometimes recommended.

Try It.

lesson that will lift them up and adorn and make them useful citizens. Teach them that all labor is honorable; that the white cap and apron of the servant are as honorable as the college cap and gown. Teach them that the hoe and the shovel, the plow and the hoe are as honorable as the pen and more honorable than the sword.
Teach them to tell the truth, pay their debts, to give their words as hostages for their lives, and that crime, criminality, loafing, stealing, gambling, swearing are the things which bring disgrace to races or individuals. The Virginia Baptist State Convention stands for higher manhood and womanhood.

Twenty new churches were received during the morning, and the delegates representing them were given a reception and extended welcome by the president.

A. W. Holmes, president of the True Reformers, was introduced and delivered an address in which he made an appeal for the order. He could see a brighter day dawning, and asked that the ministers join in the effort to restore confidence.

Rev. J. Francis Walker, of Cincinnati, formerly of Virginia, was introduced and delivered an address. He found pleasure in returning to his native State and to see that his people were forging to the front. "This is the way we are to make it," he said, "and I am glad that we have learned the lesson that in solving great problems there must be more than talk."

Professor W. T. B. Williams, field secretary of the Slater Fund, and secretary of the Negro Organization Society, was presented to the convention, and delivered an address. He said that he was delighted to see the wonderful progress being made in the convention, and felt that it meant much for the future of the negro in this country. "We cannot sit down and wait, but must be ever up and doing something."

Help Educational Work.
"Our people in Virginia and in Richmond are interested in the work you are doing," said Dr. Graham, "and here is a demonstration of it. The business men of Richmond have contributed toward our educational work.
Here is a check from William Miller, proprietor of the negro hotel, for $20; George A. D. Price, the underwriter, for $10; and the Richmond Beneficial Insurance Company for $5, and I will present to you B. H.
Peyton, of the American Beneficial Insurance Company."

Peyton, after a short address in the name of the society, presented the convention with a check for $25.
"You are represented in New York," said Rev. Granville Hunt, "and the New York Baptist Convention has authorized me to give you $25, which I now present to you."

Rev. W. Young, of Upper Zion, Va., made a personal donation to the educational work of the convention.
Professor J. S. Lee, president of the State Sunday School Convention, was also introduced and delivered an address. This was followed by the report of the committee on Sunday schools, made by James E. Carter.

A committee of fifty women, headed by the wife of Dr. W. F. Graham, served dinner in the lecture room of the church.

During the afternoon session many communities reported. The foreign mission board recommended that the convention support a missionary in Africa, which was adopted.

Last night the annual educational sermon was preached by the Rev. J.
H. Burk, D. D., of Roanoke.
When Governor W. H. Mann entered the Fifth Street Baptist Church last night at 10 o'clock, accompanied by a committee consisting of Revs. W. F.
Graham, Walter H. Brooks, R. Tyrell, W. B. Reed, M. B. Hoopes, J. Madison Young and W. B. Wood, he was given an enthusiastic ovation by 1,500 negroes.

The Rev. W. F. Graham, D. D., pastor of the Church, introduced his excellency, the Governor, who addressed the Virginia Baptist convention, of which the Rev. Bowling D. D. is president.

Governor Mann said in part:
"Having text assigned me, I feel that I am here for two or three purposes. I want to show the people of Virginia and the people of Richmond where I stand. I stand to push forward the good of the people, and I was glad to Governor for that purpose. I speak to a representative crowd. I speak to you as a layman who believes that Jesus Christ came to save sinners of which I am one."

"If I could give a word of advice to this representative preachers, who have assembled here from all parts of the State of Virginia and District of Columbia, I would use the words of the Apostle Paul, that I know nothing about you save Jesus Christ and Him crucified. The people who come to church come to hear the gospel.
They care nothing about your theories and science, but they want to know the way to Heaven."

"I have seen men's whole course of life changed in a moment by the spirit.
Now, have you got this religion? I hope you have. The religion that will make a man better. You can come to the throne of grace asking for loved ones as Moses did."

"Why are you here, preachers?
Preaching for money? No, I can make more money at anything else, but I am preaching because I am compelled to preach. Do you fall into error sometimes? Yes, but then what should you do? Do like the man who stumps his toes. Get up and go on serving God. Look up. Cling to the higher things in life. Read the life of Christ, and that's all you need to do. You will never find a single instance where Christ did for man what he could do for himself. When he went to raise Lazarus from the dead, some one had to remove the stone, because man could do that for himself, but Christ had to raise the dead."

"I want to impress on you that God does not turn his back on human being, but man turns his back on God.
The prodigal son who left his home, left his father and went away from home. His father remained at home.
Do not go away from God."

Rev. R. C. Wood responded to the address of the Governor, also the one at the opening of the convention by Dr. Webster Davis. He said that he represented the largest organizations in the State of his kind. "I come to respond to the Governor of the greatest State in the Union, the man who can lift himself above the politician and show himself to be a great statesman.

We are all Virginians, although all do not live in the State now. He spoke of the great statesmen who had filled the position of Governor of this Commonwealth. Thomas Jefferson, who advocated the doctrine of the Fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man.

Dr. Wood said the highest place occupied by man was that to serve. He said that for the past 41 years in Virginia the convention had been a power for good and truth. He said the convention was organized just as the smoke of battle was rolled away, when the leaders prayed for an incentive.
God gave the Virginia Theological Seminary and College at a time when it was needed to inspire the State.

Dr. Charles S. Morris made a short address, and the State convention quarter rendered a selection.
